ALLEN acquires Expert Global Solutions

ALLEN Group – a leader in engineering and technology consulting – today announced that it has acquired Expert Global Solutions, a leading technology service provider in the areas of Product Engineering, Digital Transformation and Connected Vehicles solution services.

Expert Global Solutions has been a pioneer in several engineering & digital domains including ADAS technology, Industry 4.0 and for over last 30 years successfully providing these services to customers in the areas of Automotive, Industrial equipment and machinery. The company is present in India, Germany and US. EGS relies on over 1,000+ people and had a Revenue of $14 million USD in 2020.

“Expert Global will enable a fruitful diversification of ALLEN positioning in INDIA for local and worldwide customers. It’s a great honor to welcome Expert Global team to the ALLEN family. They will enrich our expertise in innovative areas like Automotive embedded solutions and Industrial digital transformation. We will collaborate closely with existing EGS management to ensure business continuity and sustainable growth,” commented Gerald ATTIA, deputy CEO and co-founder of ALLEN Group.

“Joining the ALLEN Group expands our global reach and service offerings to our valued clients. We are thrilled to join the Group and are excited about the future” explained Prashant Deshpande, Managing Director & Founder of Expert Global Solutions . He added, “it will provide new growth opportunities for the business and the cross-border training and development opportunities for the employees of Expert Global Solutions.”

This strategic acquisition combines ALLEN’s scale and technology diversity with the digital innovation and knowhow of Expert Global Solutions to focus on leveraging technologies and breakthrough opportunities.
